Everybody going to the circus.

The turkey crop at least is uninjured by the drought and the crop is unusually good.

The stock of fall vegetables is sadly curtailed by the drought, beans usually so plentiful this time of year, are almost a luxury.

The tobacco crop is not near so badly injured by the dry weather as might be expected. A 75 per cent crop is probable in the county.

Next week will wind up the fair circuit, the State Fair at Louisville and then our fair going people may resume the even tenor of their ways.

The small boy of Lancaster surely knows how to tender a rousing reception to "newly weds". We have been their victim and know whereof we speak.

From the immense amount of cut flowers shipped into Lancaster for every function demanding them one would naturally infer that a green house would do well in Lancaster.

H. R. Cox Married.

Mr. H. R. Cox of Louisville, and Miss Rebecca Morris, of Flemingsburg, were quietly married in Lexington Wednesday and have taken rooms at Mrs. U. D. Simpson's. Mr. Cox is remembered here as the man who has been furnishing us with pure cistern water and much of the good health of the community is due to his efforts along this line. The Record and his many friends extend congratulations.

As matters stand a good many of your friends do not know whether it is your desire to make an active race for glory and prizes, and unless you tell them their support will be given to some other candidate.

The prizes should act as a powerful incentive and when you stop to consider the personnel in the big race, the honor of winning should act as a still greater incentive.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Davidson, of Tulsa, Okla. arrived Wednesday and are with relatives in the city. This is Mr. Davidson's initial visit since his marriage a few weeks ago and he is receiving congratulations from his many friends, who wish them much happiness as they embark upon the sea of matrimony.

Master Charles Bastin Better.

Charles, the bright little six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henley V. Bastin has been seriously ill of Membranous croup at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex West, but we are glad to know he is better and hope is entertained for his recovery, which we hope will be rapid and sure.

Burke.

Mr. Logan Burke died at his home in Bryantsville on Tuesday night and his death marks the passing of an upright, christian gentleman and one of the most highly respected and best citizens of the community in which he dwelt. His death was due to paralysis and followed an illness of many months duration, during which time all that medical skill and the tender care of a loving and devoted wife and relatives and a host of friends, was done for him. Mr. Burke was 49 years of age and came to this county from Boyle a number of years ago, and by an exemplary life took rank among the foremost citizens of the county. He was a devout member of the Christian Church holding membership at Pleasant Grove and after funeral services by his pastor, his remains were laid to rest in the Danville Cemetery on Thursday.

Mr. Burke, besides his faithful wife, is survived by his aged mother, Mrs. Ellen Burke, who resides at Junction City Ky., by three children, Miss Pattie Bell Burke and Thomas and James Burke, all of Bryantsville, and by nine brothers and sisters.

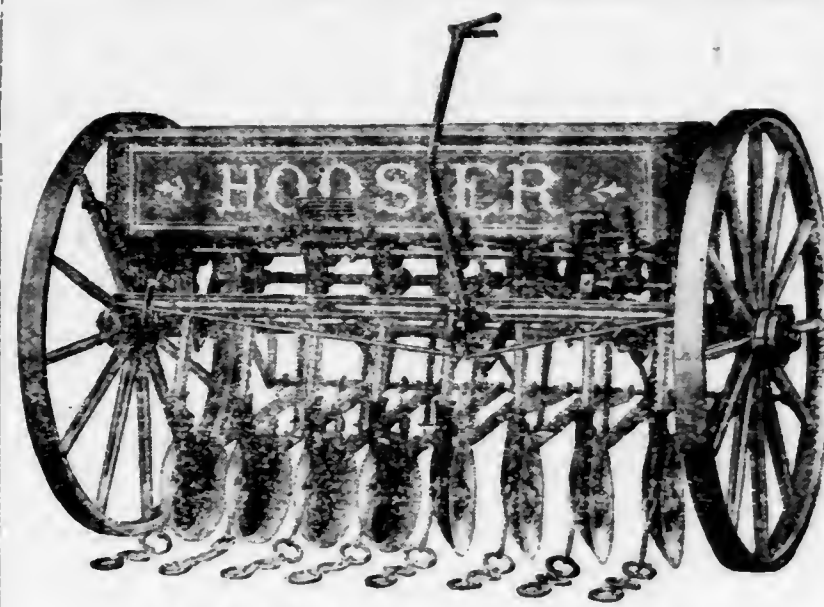

The sincere sympathy of a host of friends who knew and loved him for his many noble qualities go out to the afflicted family, and in which the Record joins.

Has Many Relatives In Garrard.

"Rich" in his interesting letter from Washington to the Danville Advocate has the following article about a youngster who is widely related in this county:—

"William Bernard Pierce, of Lancaster, Ky., has the distinction of being the youngest as well as the smallest page on the floor of the House of Representatives. He is the eleven-year-old son of O. C. Pierce, who for a number of years has been in the Adjutant General's Office of the War Department. Young Pierce has Congressional ambitions, and last winter he attracted the attention of Representative Harvey Helm, of the Eighth Kentucky District, who decided to lend him every assistance possible, and therefore designated him a page in the House. "Yes," said young Pierce, "I want to come to Congress some day. Mr. Helm has given me a start, and I believe that I shall succeed. As soon as I am old enough, I am going to study law in Kentucky, and then make my plans for entrance into political life. Some day I hope to be able to make a speech on this floor."

This young man is a grandson of Mr. Curtis Pierce of Buckeye, a nephew of James R. Pierce, of Lancaster, and has many other relatives in the county. His father, Mr. Obe Pierce was a schoolmate of the assistant editor of the Record.

The cause of education within the past decade has become a matter of great pride in Lancaster and Garrard county, and during that time there has been vast improvement, however, nothing was ever so good that it could not be improved upon. Our school started out on last Monday under the most auspicious circumstances of its history. A new modern equipped building, from which nothing in the way of comfort is lacking, was ready for the school; a new principal who comes to us with the highest recommendations as an educator and a gentleman, presides; the faculty is strengthened and in fact there is absolutely nothing lacking which goes to the making of a splendid school. And yet with all this there is yet something which will add materially to the success of the institution, and which if withheld will deteriorate considerably from its success; a school to become a success in the fullest sense of the word must have the hearty cooperation of the patrons. We have a good building, an able and well meaning board of trustees, a good principal and a good corps of teachers, now let the patrons get right behind all of this and add their quota to the success of an institution of which we may all feel proud. Remember that a teachers path, even under the most favorable circumstances, is not an easy one, their lot is a trying one, they have much with which to contend, do not therefore add to their burden by withholding your moral support. Visit the school, not once but often, encourage your child to prepare its lessons at home, keep them at home and see that they do this, and if they chance to be corrected, be sure they deserved it, teachers do not correct pupils unnecessarily and without cause, and no child is the worse for being corrected. By observing these few suggestions you may not only make the lives of the teachers a little more endurable, but you will also add materially to the success of the school. Try it.

The Democratic party took the first great step toward the redemption of party pledges on last Tuesday when the Tariff Bill passed the Senate. The measure was passed by a vote of 44 to 37, LaFollette Republican and Pointexter, Progressive voting with the Democrats for its passage, and two Democrats, Thornton and Ransdell, both of Louisiana, voting against it, because of the fact that it means free sugar. The measure is calculated to make a reduction of duties on imports of 28 per cent. A committee was at once appointed to confer with the House on the matter, and the measure is expected to go to Pres. Wilson in two weeks for his signature. The new Tariff Bill is the result of much labor and thought upon the part of some of the most intellectual men in the country, and is the very best measure that could possibly be framed as the issues contained therein are for the most part purely local to one or another part of the country, which of course necessitated equalizing, and every section of the bill was fought step by step, and only adopted into it after the most trying and painstaking efforts upon the part of those who were engaged in framing it.

President Wilson expressed the greatest satisfaction at the outcome of the measure in the Senate, and it is his belief that upon the whole it will prove acceptable and beneficial to the great majority of the American people.

The letters that were not burned seem to be causing our good friend Charlie, over at Danville quite as much trouble as the letters he failed to mail. Take them altogether letters cause a great deal of trouble in this world, those that are not mailed, not written, and are written, form a close second to the forbidden apple as a means of getting a fellow into trouble.

The high cost of living is a popular joke with most of our exchange papers, but it is a very serious matter with us as we still cling to life.

At a regular meeting of the Circle Girls on last Sunday afternoon, at the Christian Church, the following officers were elected to serve the ensuing year. Mrs. W. S. Embry, President, Mrs. L. N. Miller, Vice President, Miss Pearl Bettis, Secretary and Mrs. F. G. Hurt, Assistant Secretary.

Brother Tiader Returns.

A card from Rev. F. M. Tiader announces that he has had nine additions in the meeting he is holding at Elizabeth and a very successful meeting. He will return home this week and conduct the regular services at the Christian church next Sunday.

Accepts Position.

Mr. Benjamin Woods left Saturday for Danville where he will accept a position with the firm of Cook & Cable. Ben has many friends who wish him much success.

Happy Reunion.

Mrs. J. S. Johnson has just returned from Richmond where she attended a reunion of her family, it being the first time in twenty years since all had sat at the same table. Mrs. W. L. Arnold entertained them with an elaborate six o'clock course dinner and as they sat around the banquet table, many stories and fond reminiscences of their past lives were pleasantly related. Those present were, Messrs. T. E. W. L. R. L. and J. W. Arnold and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Boggs, and Mesdames. William and Elizabeth Simmons, Susie Elkin and Lula Johnson.

Noel.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Noel of Piney have the sincere sympathy of their many friends in the death of their bright little son Marshall Henderson aged 4 years which occurred at their home on last Friday, September 5th, and all that was mortal of the dear little child was placed at rest on the following Saturday afternoon in the Lancaster cemetery. The little fellow had been suffering with a childish ailment which necessitated the calling of the family physician, but his condition was pronounced very much improved, and when the last summons came he was standing beside the bed in his mothers room indulging in childish prattle with his brothers and sisters. All at once the little form crumpled, the little form was stilled, and almost in the twinkling of an eye the breath had departed from his body and the little soul had returned to Him who gave it.

Little Marshall was the youngest of a family of seven children, he was the light and joy of the household, and the grief of the entire family at his sudden taking was heart rending in the extreme.

The Drought Causes Considerable Damage To The Agricultural And Commercial Interests Of The County.

A blow at the agricultural interests of a community is the most severe blow that could be struck at the commercial interests of the community, for the agriculture is the backbone of the world's commerce; especially is this blow vital in a community like this where farming is the principal resource, the main stay and dependence of the greater portion of its citizens.

Probably no more severe blow was ever struck at the farming industry than the one which has just fallen, the severe drought, and the damage wrought is summed up as follows: corn crop damaged probably 50 per cent, tobacco from 25 to 50 per cent according to localities, gardens & etc. almost a complete failure, grass and pastures materially damaged and as a result innumerable flock put on the market that otherwise could have been carried longer at a great profit, meadows, especially timothy, damaged at least 50 per cent, and last but not least a severe scarcity of both stock and drinking water. Some parts of the county are worse off for rain than others the peculiarity of the rainfall, as measured as it has been, was remarkable, no later than last Sunday rain fell near Hackley in such quantities as to start Back Creek running, while a mile east of that point and in full sight of it, there was not sufficient downpour to lay the dust.

In the face of this calamity the people of the county are as a rule very cheerful and look at the matter in a philosophic light; for the past few years we have been blessed with abundant crops, and even this year our wheat crop was better than in years, and while the drought may work a hardship in many instances, there are few who will not be able to weather it out in some manner, and thankful that it is no worse, and hope for better conditions next year.

Bad Telephone Manners.

In a very interesting article on "Telephone Courtesy," in the Woman's Home Companion, the author says in part: "No well-bred man or woman would drop into a man's parlor before he starts for business in the morning, and engage him in a long-winded discussion. Yet I have known women interested in charities or civic movements to call up a business man at his home by telephone during the breakfast-hour, and start the conversation by stating that they had chosen the hour, knowing that they would surely be 'at leisure'. They have ignored the crispness if not the bluntness of his replies, and continued to talk while his breakfast cooled or his affairs at the office demanded his presence. And finally they have wondered why their mission failed!"

"Would any woman making any pretense to good breeding enter your home at dinner-time and engage you in conversation, knowing that your dinner and family awaited you in the dining room? Yet how often have you been greeted at the telephone with his remark: 'Oh, were you at dinner? Then I won't keep you a minute.'"

"But the minute runs into five or ten, the talker holding you grimly to the topic nearest her heart, while your dinner turns cold. 'Is it any wonder that business men protect themselves by sending clerks to answer the telephone? or that in many households servants ask who is calling and what is wanted before summoning members of the family? How else can one protect himself from telephone bores and the abuse of telephone courtesy?'"

Thomas B. Robinson Of Garrard County Receiving Favorable Mention As The Successor Of Collector Wiseman.

Just who is to be the Revenue Collector for this district to succeed W. N. Wiseman has not yet been settled, nor does there seem any likelihood of it being settled at any very early date. We do not have an idea who will be the successful aspirant, they are all good men and true democrats, and we shall be satisfied with the selection, whoever it may be. We predicted some time since that whoever knocked this plum would have Col. T. B. Robinson of Garrard county as a contending factor, and our prediction is proving true, for within the past week Mr. Robinson's name has been so frequently and favorably mentioned as to indicate that he is strongly in the running. The game of politics is susceptible to many changes, circumstances arise which without a moments notice place an entirely different aspect upon matters, sometimes placing men who seemed to have a cinch upon a certain place completely out of the lists, and at the same time elevates a dark horse to the front rank. Mr. Robinson has never blazoned his aspirations to the world, but the wily old politician has never flagged in his efforts, he has had the assistance and advice of friends who were not only past masters of the art of diplomacy, but were also in close touch with "the powers that be", and when this juicy plum falls, we should not be at all surprised to see it drop into the basket of our own clever "Tommy" Robinson. One thing is certain, it could not go to a more deserving man. Bob Hunter of Jessamine, John Gibson of Madison, Shelton Sauley of Stanford, Dr. Dishman of Knox, Ben Smith of Pulaski, Judge John Hughes of Mercer, and all of the other candidates for this office, including several from Boyle, are all good democrats, and each and everyone of them has doubtless yielded yeoman service to his party in days gone by, but investigate as you may, put the acid test if you choose, and you will not find one of them who has done more, harder or more effective work for the cause of democracy than Mr. Robinson, and innumerable friends, not alone in this his own county, but all over the district, would be delighted to see him receive his just measure of reward in the shape of the Internal Revenue Collectorship for the Eighth District of Kentucky.

James I. Hamilton Buys Perkins Farm.

J. I. Hamilton bought the Nixon Perkins farm of 340 acres, which was sold on last Thursday, paying $143,000 per acre therefor. There is not a handsomer, better improved or more fertile farm in central Kentucky than this one, and no one was better aware of this fact than Mr. Hamilton and he was quick to take advantage of his information.

Judge J. M. Benton Proposes To Smoke Out Violators Of The Election Laws In Clark County.

At the opening of the Clark county Circuit Court in Winchester on last Monday Judge J. M. Benton in his charge to the Grand Jury placed great stress upon the necessity of that body making rigid inquiry into the violations of the election laws at the last August primary. In the course of his remarks Judge Benton made the startling statement that it was common talk that fully one third of the voting population of Clark county was purchasable. His instruction along this line was both lengthy and learned and fully covered every phase of the case, from the candidate who purchases the money, through the middleman who uses it and to the voter who accepts it, suggesting means by which each and everyone of them may be ferreted out and just punishment meted out to them. Those who know the fearlessness of Judge Benton, both on and off the bench, know that he has the courage of his convictions, and if the good people of Clark county are anxious for a housecleaning along these lines, and will give him their moral support, the housecleaning will surely be forthcoming, probably to the sorrow of many, but it will be nevertheless thorough.

Judge Benton is well known in Garrard county, he has occupied the bench in our court as a Pro tem Judge, and in his younger days taught school in county, and there are none who know him but that are convinced that he is thoroughly in earnest in his latest move for the suppression of wrong doing in his latest move for the suppression of wrong doing in his district.

Miss Eliza Ison One Of Garrard County's Most Intelligent And Deserving Women Receives Richly Deserved Compliment.

"The Southern Woman's Magazine," published at Nashville Tenn. and devoted exclusively to the interests of southern women, recently offered a prize of $500. for the most appropriate name for the newly established publication. This contest was participated in by women all over the southland, and among the number was some of the most intelligent and refined women in all the world. Of the many names suggested twenty two persons gave in the name "Every Woman's Magazine," and the prize was of a necessity divided among this number. Each of the twenty two ladies receiving a check for $22.50 as her proportion of the offered reward. After the awarding of the prizes the management of the paper reached the conclusion that the publication had met with such a favorable reception and had come to be so well known under its original name of the "Southern Woman's Magazine" that they did not deem it expedient to make the change.

Among those to suggest the name which received the prize was Miss Eliza Ison of Bryansburg Ky., who is a splendid friend of the Record and who has contributed no little to its success. Miss Ison is the daughter of Magistrate Logan Ison, and is one of Garrard county's most efficient and intelligent school teachers, and is a lady of no little literary ability, as is shown by her aptitude in the suggesting of the successful name in this contest.

The Magazine, a copy of which we have before us, is ably edited, bright and newsworthy, and we hope and expect it to assume a place among southern womanhood which has long been vacant.

The Grow Sale.

The sale of the personality of the late George G. Grow, held at the family home at Hackley last Saturday attracted a good crowd. Owing to the extremely dry weather and the uncertainty of the coming winter, the stock brought but indifferent prices. The Buick automobile was bought by James I. Hamilton for $237.50 and he immediately sold it to D. W. Mahan for $242.50. About 30 acres of corn was bought by Henry Hurt and Wood Burns for $3.50 laid in the field. It is thought that it will make about 9 barrels to the acre.

Lancaster School Opens On Monday With Increase Attendance, And Splendid Prospects For A Prosperous School Year.

The Lancaster school opened on last Monday morning and if the interest manifested by both parents and pupils may be taken as an indication, this will be the most successful year in its history. The large auditorium was filled to its capacity with the citizens interested in the cause of education and the patrons of the school, all anxious to witness the opening ceremonies in the new building, and to show their interest and appreciation, and to give assurance of their support and cooperation during the school year. Something of an informal dedicatory service had been arranged, and this service added materially to the interest of the opening day of school. The following impromptu program was carried out:

Mr. S. D. Cochran, president of the Board of Trustees, presided at the ceremonies.

Presentation of handsome Bible donated by Board of Education, by Mr. J. W. Elmore.

Invocation by Rev. J. W. Eldridge of Paint Lick.

Prof. Canear, the Newly chosen Principal, paid eloquent tribute to Prof. D. W. Bridges, one time Principal of the school; Prof. Canear also made an impressive plea for the hearty cooperation of the parents and public with the trustees and faculty, pointing to the fact that the success or failure of the schools of the community were a by no means uncertain reflection of public opinion.

County Attorney J. E. Robinson made a short talk upon the appreciation which should be given the school work by the public, adding his plea for cooperation in the school work.

Rev. J. Rockwell Smith gave an interesting talk, taking for his theme "Influence".

Short and appropriate talks were also made by Revs. Pollitt, Beagle and Eldridge, and the large number of people present and the amount of interest manifested points very clearly to the fact that the cause of education has aroused more interest than ever before in the history of the county, and it is safe to predict that the patrons will give their hearty cooperation to Prof. Canear and his assistants in their laudable efforts to give to Lancaster one of the best schools in Kentucky.

The increased number of pupils on the opening day also added materially to the prospects for the success of the school, there being 312 pupils as against 285 on the opening day of last year, and this too in the face of an unfounded rumor of diphtheria in the community. As for this rumor, we feel perfectly safe in stating that it is wholly without foundation, and no parents fear to start their children into school on this account. A thorough canvass of the community failed to unearth a case of this disease in the city limits, and while there may be a case or two in the county, they are convalescent, and have been so guarded as to preclude the possibility of contagion. There is expected to be a material increase in the number of pupils at the school on next Monday.

The new building is a marvel of beauty, convenience and everyone who has visited the school are loud in the praise of this splendidly equipped building.

Charged With Failure To Send Children To School.

A warrant was taken out Wednesday afternoon against Joe Brown, of Lancaster school district, charging him with failure to send his children to school.

A similar charge is pending against James Smallwood, of the Pole Bridge District. — Elizabethtown News.

We think a few like warrants could and should be taken out in Garrard Co.

An Oversight Which May Prove Costly.

The law requires that a constitutional amendment to be voted upon by the people of the state must be advertised at least 90 days preceding the election. There are two constitutional amendments which are to be voted upon at the coming November election, one is to allow the Legislature to classify property for taxation, the other to permit the working of convicts outside the penitentiary walls upon public highways and other public work. Through an oversight in the office of Secretary of State Creelius these amendments were not advertised within the specified time, as soon as Mr. Creelius discovered the oversight he ordered the amendments advertised at once, and they will be offered to the vote of the people at the coming election. However, should they pass and some person should see proper to attack their constitutionality, it would in all probability cause considerable trouble, and there is a possibility that the amendments would have to be voted upon again, which could not be done until 1915, as the law only permits these amendments going to a vote at the same election at which representatives are elected, which would be two years from the coming November election.

Surprising Statistics Compiled About Education Of Girls And Boys.

Now, at this back-to-school season, it is interesting to note that— There are 254,163 public school buildings in the United States. This school property is valued at $1,201,665,730.

There are 5,333,606 teachers. The cost of maintaining the public schools for one year is $446,726,929.

There are 9,081,214 boys and 8,953,902 girls in these schools.

It is estimated by the United States bureau of education that 2,259,014 new pupils will enter the schools for the first time this September.

The above statistics are given in the September issue of Boys' Life, the boy scouts' magazine which made these interesting computations.

If the school children in the United States stood in a line with hands on shoulders they would reach from the very northern tip of Alaska to the very southern tip of South America.

If the school buildings of the United States were arranged close together in a single line they would reach from the North Pole to the capitol in Washington.

The school teachers in the United States would fill two cities the size of New Orleans.

When the Aquitania is launched in April 1914, it will be the largest steamship afloat, carrying 3,250 passengers.

If the school children of the United States were loaded on to ships the size of the Aquitania, and a mile allowed between every two ships, the string would reach from New York to Liverpool.

Proposition For Fair Election Turned Down.

Lancaster, Ky., Sept 6, 1913

Pursuant to an appeal by the Progressive candidates for County offices in Garrard County, Ky., published in The Central Record for the last two weeks, we the following candidates of the three political parties, whose names appear below, to be voted for at the coming November election; realizing how much it means to our people to have an election at which there are no corrupting influences used, and also realizing the growth of public sentiment along this line, and ever mindful of the fact that in a government of the people, the unpurchased majority must rule, we the undersigned do most solemnly pledge to the people of Garrard County and among ourselves that we are unalterably opposed to the use of any corrupting influences whatever and do bind ourselves to use neither money nor whisky nor will we allow it to be used by another in any way to secure our election.

We also further affirm that we have not in any way used any corrupting influences whereby we have bound any person or persons to vote for us or any other candidate at the coming November election.

Referring to the above agreement which was drawn and signed by the Progressive candidates on Saturday the 6th, inst. to which they are pledged, we express our great disappointment on account of the fact that this appeal has been utterly ignored by all of the candidates of the other parties.

By their failure to come forward and agree to stand for clean elections, where no corrupting influences shall be used, they proclaim to the people of Garrard County, that they are in favor of present conditions now existing within our borders, which all good people regardless of party affiliations must deeply deplore.

We are standing, in this election, not alone for the offices, to which we aspire, for if that had been our only motive, we should never have been before you at this time, but we are standing for principles, which even our opponents must acknowledge are just and right.

We again express our deepest regret at the stand taken by those gentlemen, who are asking the good people of this county to elect them to fill the various offices for the next four years. We had a right to have expected better things from our opponents, when the very foundations of this Government today are being undermined by just such conditions as exist in this County.

We, therefore appeal to the people of Garrard County, to show on which side they stand; whether they are in favor of conditions as they now exist, or whether they are in favor of conditions for which the Progressive party is contending.

Signed:

J. F. Holtzclaw candidate for Representative,

J. B. Bourne candidate for County Judge

E-72

The Late Judge Morrow.

(To the Editor of the Courier-Journal. Back in the Nineteenth century, out of the old Transylvania University, at Lexington, Ky., sprang Centre College situated at Danville in the same State. Transylvania was the largest educational institution west of the Alleghenies. The Indian fires and war-whoo scarcely had died out before it sprang into existence. But after serving its time it was succeeded by Centre College, from whose portals went out many graduates, who have served not only the State, but the National Government. Centre College grew to be the great educational Mecca for the Southern Presbyterians. Among its presidents were several famous divines who left the impress of their character on many of the alumni.

The most noted class graduating at this celebrated institution, was that of 1855. This class furnished Governors, Senators, Congressmen and Judges of the highest courts, not only in Kentucky, but other States. Centre College gave to the nation two Vice Presidents of the United States, John C. Breckinridge and Adlai Stevenson. But reverting to the 1855 class of graduates, there were three boys who afterwards became known as the "Triumvirate." John Young Brown, W. C. P. Breckinridge and Thomas Z. Morrow.

There is an episode in which these three young men figured and of which I suspect I am the only surviving witness. When I read a few days ago of the passing of Judge Morrow it was brought vividly to my mind. It was immediately after their graduation and at the time that "know-nothingism" was the shibboleth of the scattered partisans of the Whig party of the nation. At the incipency of this heated political campaign these three young men had an appointment to address the voters of Garrard County, Ky., in the old courthouse in Lancaster, long since removed. There was a vast crowd and the feeling was intense. I was but a boy, but as Tom Morrow was my father's guest on that day, I took a lively interest in the discussion. Brown led off with an impassioned plea and was followed by the smooth and eloquent Breckinridge. Then came Morrow. At first he seemed to be affected with stage fright. My mother, who sat beside him, spoke a short but encouraging word. In an instant he seemed to realize the situation and with an expression and gesture peculiar to Tom Morrow, exclaimed as near as I can remember: "I realize my environment. The gentlemen who have preceded me are thoroughbreds. I can claim no heredity. In the parlance of the horseman they are pedigreed and standard bred. I can go back no farther than an affectionate and loving mother at whose breast I imbibed those principles that unloosed the tongue of Patrick Henry and guided the pen of Jefferson."

The manner and emphasis of Morrow's enunciation captured the crowd. He spoke for one hour and was accorded an ovation.

No Money Required.

In a recent article commenting on the efforts of various organizations to secure free publicity, an Illinois editor made the statement that it took money to run a newspaper. Many other editors are laboring under a similar delusion, and for the benefit of this class, Thomas W. Mayo, publisher of the Record, St. Anne, Ill., pens the following:

"It takes money to run a newspaper? What an exaggeration. What a whopper. It doesn't take any money to run a newspaper. It can run without money. It is not a business venture. It is a charitable institution, a beg-ging concern, a highway robber. The newspaper is a child of the air, a creature of a dream. It can go on and on and on, when any other concern would be in the hands of the receiver and wound up with colic in the windows."

"It takes wind to run a newspaper; it takes gall to run a newspaper. It takes scintillating, acrobatic imagination, half a dozen white shirts and a railroad pass to run a newspaper. But money, heavens to Betsy and six hands around, whoever needed money to conduct a newspaper? Kind words are the medium of exchange that do the business for the editor-kind words and church social tickets. When you see an editor with money, watch him. He'll be paying his bills and disgracing his profession. Never give money to an editor. Make him trade it out. He likes a swap."

"Then when you die, after you have stood around for years and sneered at the editor and his little Jim Crow paper, be sure that you have your wife send in for three extra copies by one of your weeping children, and when she reads the generous and touching notice about you, for want her to neglect to send the editor fifteen cents. It would overwhelm him. Money is a corrupting thing. The editor knows it, and what he wants is your heartfelt thanks; then he can thank the printers and they can thank the grocers. Give your job work to a traveling man, and then ask for half rates for church notices. Get your lodge letter heads and stationery printed out of town and then place the editor with beautiful thoughts in resolutions of respect and cards of thanks. They make such spicy reading, and you are so proud of your local paper when you pick it up filled with these glowing laudatory articles."

"But money—scorn the filthy thing. Don't let the pure innocent editor know anything about it. Keep that for sordid trades people who change for their wares. The editor gives his bounty away. The Lord loves a cheerful giver. He takes care of the editor. Don't worry about the editor. He has a charter from the state to act as a door mat for the community. He will get out the paper somehow, and stand up for the town and whoop it up for you when you run for office. Don't worry about the editor—he'll get on. The Lord knows how—he'll somehow."

BABY HEALTH CONTEST AT FAIR

Will be One of Many Novelties of Especial Interest to Ladies

PROMINENT WOMEN HERE

Exhibits Will Show What Perfect Baby Should Be—Mrs. John L. Woodbury, of Louisville, Will Answer All Inquiries Regarding Details of Contest.

A new feature announced for the coming Kentucky State Fair is the Baby Health Contest, and already it has attracted a great deal of attention. This contest is modeled after those which have been so successful in other states, notably Iowa. The contest at this state was first inaugurated in 1911 by the Iowa branch of the National Congress of Mothers, with Mrs. Mrs. L. Watts in charge.

The Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs has been asked to cooperate with the Kentucky State Fair, and the chairman of their Health Department, Mrs. George Grant and Mrs. Herbert Ottenheimer, of the Health Committee, will set in an advisory capacity.

Uniformity is absolutely essential in the examination and marking of the children in order to secure accurate results. In a nationwide movement, the secure card, so long and universally used, is such a basis for uniformity that its exclusive use is very important in this work and it has accordingly been adopted by Kentucky.

The prizes will be of commensurate small amount or value. To offer valuable prizes, or to permit such offers by newspapers, baby food manufacturers, photographers, or others, would be considered an advertisement for their business, would excite the cupidity of parents, cause a scramble for such in view of a search for knowledge, and a danger and lead to commercialization of the whole movement.

The Baby's Health Contest at the coming Kentucky State Fair will be in charge of Mrs. John L. Woodbury, of Louisville, who will be glad to answer all inquiries regarding the work.

RACING EVENTS SCHEDULED FOR STATE FAIR.

Chairs of the Track to Compete for Rich Stakes—Classy Trotting and Racing Promised for Show.

The eleventh annual Kentucky State Fair, to be held in Louisville next September 15-29, promises a celebration of a magnitude, excellence and interest that has never heretofore been eclipsed by a like event, and the phase of the fair will offer a more and more varied attraction than the racing program which has been arranged.

The Early Closing Events for trotters and pacers, entries for which closed May 15, includes the impressive debut of 125 contestants, a race which is fully 10 per cent larger than any heretofore recorded and which, it is said, numbers some of the classiest examples of horse flesh the country can boast.

There are a half dozen stakes for which these horses will compete, the first two being $500 trotting events for two and three-year-olds, and the remainder $1,000 stakes for 2:11 and 2:10 pacers and 2:14 and 2:20 trotters.

In addition to the trotting and pacing events, the fair will offer daily racing, with entries including some of the classiest and speediest horse flesh then stabling at the Louisville Park track in preparation for the fall race meet, which immediately follows the week of the State Fair.

Feature of Closing Day.
The feature of paramount interest on the closing day of the fair will be the Gentlemen's Cup Race. The Horsemen's Association has donated a silver cup as trophy to the winner of this race.

Entries for the purse races for trotters and pacers will not close until a week prior to the opening of the fair. The purses for these events are $500 each, evenly divided among the trotters and pacers. The list will include 2:12, 2:16, 2:18 and 2:24 trotters and 2:12, 2:14, 2:18 and a free-for-all in the pacing class.

The entire track program for the coming fair has been arranged with a view to variety, and lovers of good lean sport and of royally-bred animals may anticipate one of the most pretentious exhibitions in the history of the state.

The Kentucky State Fair track is rated as one of the finest ever laid and the recently-enlarged grand stand offers an ideal mecca for sociability, as well as sporting recreation.

This contest, which is open to farm boys and students of any agricultural college, is a splendid incentive to scientific farming, and there is nothing so deeply interesting to the future "bone and sinew" of the state as the opportunity to demonstrate their practical knowledge as tillers of the soil and breeders of fine stock.

A special donation of $25 in gold has been made by J. B. Bowles, of Bardonia, Ky., in the saddle horse judging contest, and D. H. Ewing & Sons, of Louisville, Ky., have given $25 as a prize for the best boy judge of dairy cattle.

Youngster's Opinion.
While at dinner I gave each of my boys, age four and five, two peaches, also my wife took two, while I took a handful, and, holding the hand down, asked the youngest, sitting next to me, to guess how many I had. After staring blankly at me, I turned over my hand, showing the amount, which was three, when the youngster said: "Too many."—Chicago Tribune.

Newspapers are great educators, are cheap and parents should provide a good clean, unbiased newspaper to supplement their reading. Let our editors be as careful as to what goes into their papers as what should be uttered in their own homes, then we will have the ideal newspaper to place before children. Let them scan each column for misspelled words, improper punctuation and make typographical errors scarce enough to be conspicuous for their absence. Thus our home papers will be more readable, more understandable, and safe to say, will be enjoying an increased subscription list.

CHICKAMAUGA-CHATTANOOGA NATIONAL MILITARY PARK COMMISSION

Reading Left to Right: Major Cummings, of Georgia; Gen. Chas. H. Grosvenor, Ohio, Chairman; Gen. John T. Wilder, Tennessee; Col. Baxter Smith, Tennessee; Capt. James Polk Smartt, Tennessee, Historian; John F. Randolph, Superintendent. This Commission is composed of both Union and Confederate Veterans, and it has offered its services in the plans for the entertainment of Veterans of the G. A. R. on the local battlefields during the Encampment at Chattanooga in September.

SEVENTH MINNESOTA REGIMENTAL MONUMENT, CHICKAMAUGA PARK, CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

FIRST WISCONSIN CAVALRY, ON LYTLE HILL, CHICKAMAUGA PARK, CHATTANOOGA, TENN.

SPECIAL PROGRAM PLANNED.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—A special program for the entertainment of visitors to the 47th National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, September 16-20, is being planned on a large scale. Chief among the special features now under consideration is a sham battle between two brigades of U. S. regular troops at Snodgrass Hill, the center of Chickamauga. It is believed by the management of the local encampment association that such a feature will be greatly enjoyed by the old soldiers and encampment visitors. The desire is that the young men of the regular army shall furnish entertainment of a military character for the survivors of the civil war who will be here to attend the encampment. The Tennessee river washing the northern boundary of the city of Chattanooga will afford pleasure in the way of boating, excursions and the like, with flights of hydro-aeroplanes, during the encampment. These free features will be prominent during the week of the encampment, with others added as the program is completed by the committee.

VISITORS CAN VISIT KNOXVILLE EXPOSITION.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—One of the reasons for extending the 47th National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, to be held here in September, over a period of six days, is to allow visitors to Chattanooga ample time to visit the National Conservation Exposition at Knoxville, Tenn. This exposition extends from the first of September to the last of October, and will attract great interest among people who are concerned in conserving the resources of the United States

ENCAMPMENT PREPARATIONS

HOW CHATTANOOGA WILL ENTERTAIN AND CARE FOR HOSTS OF GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.

A Thriving, Enterprising and Hustling City of 100,000 Population and Adequate Means for Handling Large Conventions.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—(Special).—The people of Chattanooga successfully entertained a crowd of more than 100,000 visitors on the occasion of the Reunion of Confederate Veterans in May. This was done without seriously taxing the ability and hospitality of the community. It is believed here that more people will attend the Annual Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, September 16-20, than attended the Confederate Reunion, and arrangements are being made in conformity with that belief.

The city of Chattanooga has a population of more than 100,000 by a census taken the first of the year under municipal direction. Chattanooga is a manufacturing center, and its ability to handle large crowds, and to raise money to finance large undertakings, has already been established. No difficulty was encountered, for example, in raising the large fund to finance the Confederate Reunion undertaking, and none has been encountered in securing the necessary fund to entertain the G. A. R. Encampment. Every visitor to Chattanooga during the Confederate Reunion found a comfortable place to sleep, and the capacity of the city for feeding was more than adequate to the demand.

Chattanooga of to-day has been built since the conflict between the two great armies drenched these historic fields with blood and devastated this section of the South as probably no other section was devastated. The combatants threw themselves upon each other on these fields with a fury that was not surpassed on any other fields, and hillside ran red with the blood of nearly 50,000 Americans.

Of the historic scenes around Chattanooga which appeal not only to those who fought in the civil war, but to the public generally, Chickamauga battlefield may well be placed at the front. The casualties on this field, including dead, wounded and missing, were near 35,000, and the percentage of loss for the combined armies, of troops actually engaged, was near 33. This high percentage of loss is not equalled anywhere in the world for two days' fighting. Then, there are Lookout Mountain, the scene of a thrilling charge by the Federal troops against obstinate defense; Missionary Ridge, stormed by the Northern troops and swept for a distance of nearly three miles of all Confederate forces. Casualties in all the battles of Chattanooga were approximately 47,000 men. Part of the field of Chickamauga is now occupied by a garrison of United States regular troops, this post soon to be increased for a brigade. Many thousands of acres form a government reservation, the Chickamauga-Chattanooga National Military Park, on which there are 2,000 memorials and monuments in memory of the troops who fought on the bloody ground. Beautiful winding roads give access to the points of interest throughout, following in as large degree as possible the roads of war time. Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge, in part, are included in the historic ground which now has government attention. Battlefields and environments of such historic interest are expected to attract a large crowd to Chattanooga during the encampment week, September 16-20, and the management of the encampment association is making preparations to care for all veterans and visitors.

appreciated. If you have not you should do so at once and lose no time in getting in communication. Remember, also all those persons you saw earlier in the contest who put you off until a later date. Communicate with all of these; explain to them that you get the biggest votes for your efforts now, and under the circumstances they won't refuse to help you. It is bargain time in this record breaking contest and you simply cannot afford to fail to avail yourself in the fullest of this magnificent offer.

Don't believe foolish rumors. "You might as well quit" Miss I heard about a fellow whose uncle knows a man who saw a man who said his father knew a man who told him he had heard about a contestant who had over three million votes already and who said she was going to win if she had to spend a hundred dollars.

And there you are. Right away some of the candidates who are of the easily discouraged kind come in with a woe-begone expression and their hearts full of gloom. Only the idle rumor of some idle party who had heard that some one knew a girl who was fortunate enough to secure a three year subscription.

In this contest, reports will doubtless be circulated by enthusiastic friends engaged in the support of their candidates, about this and that candidate that has such a big vote reserve or about what they are going to do at the last. In fact, already the contest manager has heard about a couple of these reports and upon tracing them to the source, found there was nothing to them. These stories start up in every contest but when it came to a "show down" at the last, the contest manager has found from experience in past contests that it is "all talk". Your competitors are simply trying to bluff you out. The reports which are thus circulated will doubtless have a tendency to chill the ardor of the working contestants but the candidates are hereby warned that such reports are usually found to have been carefully passed to the right parties to reach the candidates strongest opponent, so that candidates will become discouraged. Don't be easy; don't let your competitor bluff you out. Just stick to the finish and you'll find out that you were badly worried about nothing.

JUST REMEMBER. Votes cannot be bought. They must be secured on subscriptions or clipped from the paper.

Votes are positively not transferable and no vote ballot will be issued in blank. They must bear the name of candidate before they leave this office. There is NO POSSIBLE WAY that anyone can find out how many votes a candidate has in reserve unless that candidate tells it herself. No one knows how many any candidate has—not even the contest manager himself, for no record is kept of the votes issued on subscriptions and they are not counted until they are put in the ballot box. Under the system which the contest is conducted, it is bound to be fair and square and every contestant will have impartial treatment.

If you secured a subscription earlier in the contest and can now get the subscriber to pay more we will give you the difference in votes. Send the printed letters or call by telephone all of your friends that you cannot reach personally. We will furnish you all the letters and receipt books that you need and would advise you to send out several hundred letters.

FRIENDS—YOU ARE NEEDED. Are you a friend, relative or acquaintance of some candidate in this big race. Do you realize that right now is the time that your subscription is most needed for the Big 20000 vote offer of the contest is now in force. You don't want to see your candidate lose by just a few votes, do you? No, of course you don't. You wouldn't be a friend if you did. Many and many a prize has been lost in campaigns of this kind by a very small margin of votes. From present indications, this is going to be a very close race at the finish and perhaps just one subscription may decide the winner of the big prize. You would feel mighty mean if your "favorite" lost the Pony and Outfit just for lack of the votes your own subscription would bring and you had not handed in your subscription. Don't let this happen—hand in your subscription to-day, or if you are already taking the paper, pay up for a year or more longer. Just send the subscription direct to the candidate or direct to the Central Record office but be sure you send it before, Sept. 24th for it will now bring the biggest votes.

NOTICE TO CONTESTANTS. If you will Send In Ten (10) Subscriptions Paid for one year or more before next Thursday night, we will give you the Difference in votes Between the Present Schedule and the one in Force the last two weeks on the 10,000 vote offer. This enables you to get the same Big votes As Are Now In force on all Subscriptions turned in under the last offer. If you do not fully understand this offer, call or write the Contest Manager.

Ricketts.

Lewis Watts Ricketts, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. B. Ricketts of Danville and grand son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. McCarty formerly of Lancaster died at his home last Saturday night and was brought here Monday for burial. He was five years old and their only child. Gone from this world of sorrow and care

To a happier land above
Where the angels are waiting to welcome him there
And bathe him in Heavenly love.

Parents and physician did all they could do
To restore him to health again
But God in his wisdom tenderly drew
From the bed of suffering and pain.

The child from whom they had done so much
To brighten the path he trod
Has gone to Jesus who sweetly says
Such is the kingdom of God.

We should not weep for him any more.
But trust we are near him still
For he is safe on the other shore, as suited God's good will.

Let us pray that his little hand
Be extended to help us along.
And draw us to that happy land
Where sorrow changes into song.

The Year of the Sudden Change.
One of the most remarkable stories of sudden cold weather is to be found in a famous biography of Abraham Lincoln. The year 1836 was long known as "the year of the sudden change." At noon on Dec. 20 of that year, after a warm, rainy morning, the temperature suddenly fell 40 degrees. A man riding into Springfield, Ill., for a marriage license found the raindrops dripping from his bridle and heard changed "in a second" into flinging icicles. Geese and chickens were caught by their feet and wings and frozen to the wet ground. A drove of 1,000 hogs being driven to St. Louis rushed together for warmth and formed a huge pile. Those inside smothered, while those outside froze, and the ghastly pyramid remained on the prairie for months. Men caught on the prairie killed their horses, disemboweled them and crept into the cavity of their bodies to escape the murderous blizzard.

Trick of a Flash of Lightning.
Lightning plays some peculiar tricks at times, but we have never heard anything to come up to the following, which the Melbourne Age properly labels "Extraordinary Incident."
"A young man, while riding through the timber country at Willung during a recent storm, had a remarkable escape from death in peculiar circumstances. A large tree directly in front of him was struck by lightning and split in halves. The horse he was riding, becoming terrified, started to plunge and jumped through the gap between the halves of the tree. At that moment the halves came together with a snap like a rabbit trap and crushed off a length of the horse's tail, which can still be seen protruding from the tree. The young man received a severe shaking, but otherwise came through the ordeal safely."

His Special Treat.
The vicar of an east end parish is telling a queer little story that illustrates the relations between husband and wife in that quarter of London. He was returning home late one night when he overtook a man who was violently abusing and ill using a woman. The poor woman was coming off very badly and she had already got a damaged eye when the clergyman went up and remonstrated with the man on his behavior. For a moment the blows and abuse were stayed, the man being so surprised at the interruption to continue. Then, to the astonishment of the peacekeeper, the ill used woman signed to him to go away. Wiping her eyes with her shawl, she informed him soothingly:
"It's all right, sir. Let 'im be. I'm 'is wife, and it's 'is birthday!—London Answers."

A good crowd attended the Stanford court Monday and some trading was done among the farmers and stock men. Quite a number of cattle on sale but trading rather dull. A few of the sales follow: T. C. Rankin, one pair of mules for $245, and another pair for $285. Robinson and Shanks pair mules of Sam Baughman for $350. W. B. Burton, pair mules of B. D. Holtzclaw for $395. mare mule of J. B. Wade, for $215, and one of Jake Norris for $200. Geo. D. Robinson a pair of for $315. N. J. Gosney, of Marksburg bought ten calves at an average of $15. a head. R. I. Burton 9 head of cattle at $25. a head.

One of the largest crowds that ever attended a public sale in this county was that of the sale of the beautiful farm of the late Nixon Perkins, near Marksburg last Thursday. It seemed that every one from Garrard was there and every adjoining county was all represented. The popular auctioneer, Col. I. M. Dunn, was at his best and much credit is due him for the excellent prices for which everything sold. The farm of 340 acres was sold to J. I. Hamilton for $143.00 an acre, the bidding was quite spirited and it looked at one time as if it would go to $150.00. This is one of the best farms in the county and is considered well worth the money for which it brought.

The following personally sold: H. C. Ruble, mare for $65., W. L. Lawson, nice mare for $176., C. A. Arnold purchased a pair of 8-year-old mare mules for $340; an aged mule went to W. H. Pepples, of Lincoln county, for $172.50, a mule colt to E. P. Buster, of Mercer county, for $102.50 and mule colt to C. A. Arnold for $82.50, a mule to George D. Robinson, of Lancaster, for $160; an aged mule to C. A. Arnold for $172.50, other mule colts sold from $75 to $80 a 3-year-old gelding was knocked off to Walter Perkins for $75, a 4-year-old mare was purchased by Pool Perkins for $200, milk cows and calves brought from $40 to $70, a blind brood mare was sold to C. A. Arnold for $30, eight brood sows ranged in price from $15 to $20 per head, 40 shoats sold in two bunches, 25 head averaging 115 pounds being knocked off to John Ruble of Mercer county, at $7.65 per hundred, and 15 head of 75 pound shoats going to the same trader at $6.35 per hundred, a 7-months old Jersey bull brought $21. 200 bales of hay were brought by J. T. Raney, liveryman at $16.85 per ton, and 200 bales went to Jim Clark at $16.90 per ton. 60 barrels of corn was purchased by B. F. King at $4.40 per barrel in the crib. 23 head of 2-year-old cattle weighing about 1,000 pounds per head, were bought by Bowman and Land, of Fayette county, $65.25 per head.

Some Simple Recipes.

To one breakfast table add mean coffee, scorched steak, a dull day and a wife in a dirty negligee, and a fine full-sized quarrel will be ready in 20 minutes after the bell rings.

When, as an outsider, you are forced into the distressing position of confidante of both husband and wife, place two hatpins through your chapeau, your arms in your coat, and beat it!

If you are looking old, unattractive, and generally at your worst, get a shampoo, a facial massage, bushels of fresh air and smile at something funny. You will have a better chance to face the world and its music.

If married life seems flat, and all interest in things has evaporated, add a few congenial friends, some healthful pastime and, if necessary, change the furniture. Stir the whole into a fresh atmosphere of determination and see what happens.

Take five yards of lace, one-half yard of tulle; drape it over a pretty figure and add a dash of violet perfume, plenty of music and moonlight. After fifteen minutes' subjection to the modern jollying, an engagement with the first man in sight will result.

To make a man thoroughly satisfied with his own wealth of information, know a little less than he. Ask him now and then for information, and open your eyes wide, with delighted surprise when he has finished his lecture. Increase in chest expansion, six inches.
